The driver of the westbound car that is believed to have struck one or both of the pedestrians in the fatal crash that occurred on 11/12/09 in the 3000 block of North Street has now come forward and been interviewed by investigators. She is a 70-year old Port Allen woman. Evidence indicates her car did contact one or both pedestrians, but only after they were already hit by an eastbound car and knocked into her lane of travel.
